“THESE THINGS YOU TAKE ON FAITH”

The purchase of a Ready-to-Wear Suit today is a gamble—almost. Throughout the country clothes of doubtful quality command unheard-of prices. $10 or $20 expended for a suit is no longer a guarantee that the clothes are worthy. The inexperienced and the experienced merchant alike are confronted with the problem of gauging quality. These things they must take on Faith—and yet—not entirely on Faith, either. For backward and forward—from “A to Z”—we know clothes—woolens, and equally important, workmanship. And to their credit, be it said, that doubtful quality has not crept into Guilfoyle Hand-Tailored, Ready-for-Service Suits. These Suits you can take on Faith—Faith in our judgment—Faith in our integrity—and Faith in our assurance that they are the finest Ready-for-Service garments produced—$30 to $65.

EARLE, Ark., May 15. (Sp.)—Earle and Crittenden county did themselves proud Thursday in their welcome to the boys of the county who served during the world war. Early in the morning people began arriving in cars from the surrounding towns and country and the noon train brought in a large crowd from the west. Promptly at 10 o'clock every business house in the city closed its doors and merchants, lawyers, doctors, newspaper men and day laborers united to give the soldiers a fitting reception. Assembly was sounded at 1:30 p.m. and the parade was formed with a Memphis band leading, followed by the soldiers in full uniform. The procession went down Main street to the high school grounds, where speakers of the day were awaiting the crowd. Bringing up the rear of the procession were two old Confederate veterans, who were applauded all along the line. Lieut. Bonard, of Earle, commencing the ceremony, assisted by Capt. Robert Morris, W. B. Scott, deputy prosecuting attorney, was master of ceremonies and introduced Judge William Davis, of Osceola, who delivered the welcome address. Rev. E. K. Sewell, of Wynne, Ark., a returned U. S. C. A. secretary, was wounded while serving in France, was a most impressive talk. Miss Winifred Lewis, of Marion, Ark., gave a much applauded address. A eulogy to the men who flat their lives in the service was rendered by Sheriff W. F. Fish. Preceding the speaking a short program of band music was rendered and Mrs. J. C. Borum directed a choral song. Miss Irene Crouch directed a flag drill by a class of schoolgirls. At 4:10 p.m. a ball game was played between the Forrest City team and the Earle team. The Earle team were played and Earle won a easy victory over the visitors, scoring 6 to 1. At 7 p.m. banquet to the returned soldiers, speakers and committees were served in the newly erected L. L. Barham garage. One hundred and twenty-seven plates were laid and the tables fairly groaned under the good things prepared. After the banquet tables were cleared and the hall made ready for dancing, which commenced at 9 o'clock and lasted until the small hours of the morning.

ALBAMA EDITOR MUST PAY ONE CENT FOR LIBEL
HUNTSVILLE, Ala., May 15.—Ninety thousand dollars of the $150,000 damage and libel suit against J. E. Pierce, editor and general manager of the Huntsville Daily Times, resulted in a jury verdict of one cent and costs against Pierce in the Madison county circuit court yesterday afternoon. The suit was brought by ex-Mayor J. D. Humphrey, a local druggist, who complained about the Daily Times' report of Humphrey's conviction and sentence in the local police court on a charge of violating the Alabama prohibition laws. The case was stubbornly contested on both sides for three days and keen interest of a general nature attended it. Editor Pierce has been and is now a prohibition Democratic leader in North Alabama.

PADUCAH, Ky., May 15. (Sp.)—A brick campaign to raise $25,000 in public subscriptions to build a road from Louisville to Paducah was started today, with 16 local business men as solicitors, under the general chairmanship of Charles Vahlkamp.
